The Lists

If you wish to use my template for your own lists, you can find it here -

If you wish to edit any list, let me know your email address and I'll share the folder.

Contact me via email on curufea at yahoo dot com.

The Compilation Document

All the above lists that have not been published in a book format (ie those lists that have links above) will be compiled into a single document, formatted to be similar, and hosted here at regular intervals. When I have it printed out, I'll link to the print-on-demand website(s) that do a good job of it so you can print it too 😊

Notes: The compilation will primarily be using the Baskerville font (or whatever free equivalent I can find) as it seems the most likely candidate for popular Victorian age printed material (Times New Roman is early 20thC). I'll be using some free vector art in the PDF as well as decorative elements.
