

Bag Lady

By 5lippers (original post)

Outside the hotel the players often bump into an unkempt lady who carries a mangy cat around in an old hemp shopping bag. She has little to do with the players other than shout nonsensical and stomach-churning abuse at them from time to time.

One day, she sidles up to the players and tells them, conspiratorially, that she knows a secret before wandering into a nearby alley. If the players choose to follow her, the alley will be empty when they get there. They never see the old lady again.
