Crew Creation - Crew Roll

Roll 6 times on the Basic Crew Type table:

- If you roll an Imperial Citizen or Servitor continue to roll on the Background, Motivation and Class Tables
- If you roll a Xenos roll on the Xenos Crew Type Table (You may be asked to make rolls on additional tables if detailed in the stat notes).
- If you roll a Special Character roll on the Special Character table continue to roll on the Background and Motivation Tables (You may be asked to make rolls on additional tables if detailed in the stat notes).

BASIC CREW TYPE

The citizens of the Imperium vary in their form and appearances just as their home worlds do. There are many roles and functions to perform within the Imperium and each of these present their own disciplines, required skills and mentalities.

51 - 65	Xenos

It is not recorded exactly when humans learned that it was not alone in the galaxy, or which intelligent alien species it first contacted, but what is known in early Imperial records is that Humanity has been competing with xenos since the Age of Technology.

66 - 80	Servitor

Servitors were created due to the strict prohibitions against the development or use of machine intelligences according to the tenets of the Cult Mechanicus, whose tech-priests deeply fear the creation of Silica Animus. They believe such artificial general intelligences to be the embodiments of blasphemy against the Omnissiah.

81 – 100

Special Character

The Imperium is indeed a strange place - Strange Character types will have specific backgrounds, motivations, or classes predetermined, as listed. If so, do not roll on the relevant table.

	1 - 2	Xenos	The Ordo Xenos is served by its Chamber Militant, the Deathwatch Space Marines, who draw on Veteran Astarte's from Chapters across the Imperium of Man to form the Deathwatch's Kill-teams and destroy the many foul xenos threats to the survival of Mankind.	Access to Xenos Weapons and Gear loot tables / Recruits : During battle set up on a roll of 6+ a Deathwatch SM can be recruited for that singular battle
*	3 - 4	Malleus	The Ordo Malleus was essentially the heart of the Inquisition, founded in the period after Horus had launched his great rebellion against the Emperor of Mankind.	Roll on the Sanctioned Psyker table / Recruits: During battle set up on a roll of 6+ a Grey Knight SM can be recruited for that singular battle
1	5 - 6	Hereticus	The arrival of an Ordo Hereticus Inquisitor is met with as much trepidation as awe since none know where their gimlet gaze may land and upon whom their suspicions might fall.	Roll on the Unsanctioned Psyker table / Recruits: During battle set up on a roll of 6+ a Seraphim can be recruited for that singular battle

Crew Creation – Special Character Tables

Roll	Psyche	Description	Effect
1 - 15	Scoundrel	The scoundrel looks to turn every possible situation to his own personal advantage, and will often take risks others would find reckless, gambling with his own life and those of all his servants. Violence is rarely the first option for such Rogue Traders, and they often maintain a mask of self-effacing amiability	If another crew member is within 2" of th model when this model is targeted for a ranged attack, they can switch the targeting to the other crew member / Ra three die for each roll on the loot tables and keep the two preferred results each time
16 - 30	Merchant Prince	Merchant Prince Rogue Traders are entirely consumed by the quest for riches, gained not by the crude application of threats or violence, but the shrewdly negotiated contract. The Merchant Prince seeks to establish the most lucrative of trading contracts, ensuring that the other party benefits from the deal, but not nearly so much as he does	Whenever you receive scrips, receive th many +1 / All costs are reduced by +1 scrips / If another crew member is from the mechanicus faction you whenever you roll on the loot table you may roll twice
31 - 45	Explorer	To the explorer, the most hostile of environments is a challenge to be faced head-on, and the most fearsome of slavering alien beasts is a fascinating opportunity for study and interaction (or sometimes autopsy). The explorer is ever keen to don an envirosuit and plunge headlong into the most dangerous or bizarre of alien landscapes	Roll twice on the world traits table and apply both results / Roll twice on the deployment condition table and keep th preferred option / Add one survival suit your inventory
46 - 60	Missionary	The missionary Rogue Trader suffers the xenos poorly, seeing little or no value in establishing profitable trading relationships with alien worlds. More likely, he will seek to suppress such cultures and limit their influence, ensuring their alien creeds do not spread to taint the hearts of men. Such Rogue Traders are often accompanied on their voyages by an army of Ecclesiarchy representatives, who he will make every effort to establish on any lost Human worlds he discovers.	+2 Faith / If a Xenos enemy is determine during battle set up receive +1 comba skill / If a Xenos is a crew member you cannot seize the initiative
61 - 75	Diplomat	It is the diplomat who can gain the confidence of the inscrutable Eldar, earning such trust as to be allowed to set foot on their Craft worlds. It is he who may turn the path of alien invasion, negotiating a truce that allows both parties to extricate themselves from a war neither would ultimately stand to gain from.	Access to the Xenos Weapons and Ged table / If a Xenos is a crew member you will always seize the initiative / Enemy Xenos Morale is -1 / +2 to Patron rolls wh this crew member performs the find a patron task
76 - 90	Psychopath	With wanton enthusiasm, they wage war on all they consider to be an enemy of the Imperium. Some spend a lifetime out beyond the fringes, laying waste to Emperor-knows how many worlds, while others return periodically to the Imperium, announcing their deeds and expecting all manner of grand receptions and official ceremonies. Many take on one foe too many, and simply disappear from the annals of the Imperium's history.	-2 when performing a rival check - For every successful battle round scored against a rival reduce this number by 1 f every unsuccessful battle round scored against a rival increase this number by 1 +1 Faith
91 - 100	Trader Militant	These bloodthirsty Rogue Traders are commonly known by the general populace of the Imperium as Traders Militant, and their Warrant is often referred to by their fellows as a "Warlord Warrant."	+2 to Recruitment rolls when this crew member performs the recruit task / Rol once on the Xtremely Rare weapons table / If at least two other crew membe are from the arbites, militarum or sororitt faction then all members can reroll hit rc

SHIP UPGRADES

			SHIF UPGRADES
	COMPONENT	COST	DESCRIPTION
	Medicae Deck	25	Fully stocked medicae deck to aid long-term recovery. Each campaign turn when recovering from Injuries, select a crew member who can mark off 2 campaign turns of recovery time.
	Brig	15	The brig of the ship has been upgraded to be environmentally stable. When traveling to a new planet, you may take on cargo. Roll 2D6 and discard any 5-6. Select the highest remaining die and earn that many scrips from delivering a shipment to the new world. If both dice are discarded, no shipments are available. If your ship is damaged in transit, the cargo is also lost.
*	Lux Net	10	Access to extensive data records via Lux Net have been added to aid in decision making. When traveling to a new planet, you may roll up the details for one additional planet, and then select which to visit.
1	Shuttle	15	Launch bay with a standard Arvus lighter shuttle for quick deployments. If you receive the Distress Call Starship Travel event, you may roll twice and pick the higher roll. If a planet is Invaded, you may add +2 to the roll to get off-world.
	Rogue Trader Contact	20	Access point to the corporate extra-net framework to help in diversifying risk-managed portfolios during times of economic volatility. You may carry out one free Trade action each campaign turn, without requiring a crew member to be assigned to it.
Aller A way	Drop Pod	25	Rapid deployment system, stolen from remains of an epic battle the crew stumbled on. Cost is associated with the repair of the pod. Pretty safe. When setting up a battle, roll 2D6. On an 8+, Drop deployment is viable. Select up to two crew figures who will land using this method. They do not set up at the beginning of the battle. Instead, at the end of any round, select a point on the tabletop, move it 1D6" in a random direction, and then set up both characters within 1" of the final marker. They cannot act on arrival but will act normally in the following round.
	Probe Launcher	10	Launching device for scientific probes. Useful for all manner of tasks in deep space. If you receive the Asteroids Starship Travel event, you can roll twice to avoid the field.
	Disruption Macro Cannons	15	Auto-tracking Macro Cannons, calibrated for Semi-Autonomous Pulse Fire. That's what the manual says, in any event. If you receive the Raided Starship Travel event, you may add +1 to the roll to avoid the battle. If you must flee from a world that is being Invaded, you may add +1 to the roll.
	Sanctioned Astropath	15	With the aid of sanctioned Astropath your voyages through the warp are certainly less eventful. If you roll the Navigation Trouble Starship Travel event, you do not have to subtract 1 story point. If you roll the Travel-Time Starship Travel event, you may receive the benefits of both that event AND Uneventful Trip.
	Gellar Field	20	Protection for travel through the warp. Because of the unserviced nature of the field generators they can only hold up for a few moments, but everything helps. If you roll the warp event on the travel event table, you will only receive 2 hull damage and must roll on the injury for 2 crew members.
*	Void Shield	15	If your ship would sustain damage from any source, reduce the damage by 1 Hull Point. Note that the Asteroids Starship Travel event potentially inflicts multiple Hits with the Improved Shielding protecting against each.
1	Clemency Pastern Life Sustainer	15	Standard for non-jump travel. When managing Upkeep, you may opt to Suspend any crew members. They do not participate in any events, cannot undertake tasks, or go on missions, do not recover from Injuries, and do not require Upkeep. While suspended, the character doesn't count as part of the crew. You can have up to 4 crew members Suspended at any one time. During any Upkeep step of a future campaign turn, you can revive any Suspended crew. They must be counted as part of your crew during the Upkeep step of that campaign turn and will act normally thereafter. Any Injuries must still be recovered from normally after revival.
A very	Crew Quarters	15	Improved living quarters for improved comforts, as well as more efficient life support systems. When determining Upkeep for your crew, you may count your crew as having two crew members less than normal.
1	Miloslav G-616.b Warp Engine	15	Once fitted, these devices allow a wide range of readily available matter to be converted into Jump fuel. Starship travel costs are reduced by 2 scrips.

EVENT

A War II II I B

Asteroids: Rocky debris everywhere, maybe from a recent collision? If you wish to avoid it, roll 1D6, requiring a 5+ to 7 chart a safe path. If successful, roll again on this table. To go through the field, select a crew member and roll 1D6+Savvy three times, requiring a 4+ to succeed each time. Each failed roll inflicts 1D6 Hull Point damage to the ship.

Navigation trouble: Is this place even on the star maps? Lose 1 story point as you drift through empty space, then 8-12 roll again on this table. If your ship is currently suffering from Hull Point damage, and you roll this event, a random crew member must roll on the Injury Table, as system failures cause life support malfunctions across the vessel.

Seized: Your vessel catches the eye of a Xenos Armada. Intimidation might work: Select a crew member and roll 1D6 +5avvy. A 6+ is required to avoid conflict. Otherwise, set up a battle in cramped territory, using the Xenos Cat 1 Encounter Table. Enemy numbers are determined by rolling 3D6, picking the highest die (with campaign crew size 4, roll 1D6). Add the numbers indicated in the enemy table, +1 extra figure. There is no objective. If you drive them off, they flee back to their ship. If you lose, you lose all scrips and everything in your Stash, though you can keep the ship. If you win, you get the normal rewards for winning an Opportunity mission, plus a bonus roll on the Loot Table. Note that this battle is an 'out of sequence' encounter and does not count as the main Battle stage for the campaign turn.

18-25 Deep space wreckage: You find an old wreck drifting through empty space. Scanning it, you get 2 rolls on the Loot table. Both items are damaged and need to be Repaired.

Drive trouble: It's not supposed to make that sound. Select 3 crew members and have each roll 1D6+Savvy. A 6+ is 26-29 required for success. For each failure, you are grounded on the next world for one turn while the drive is reset. Taking off before the drive is reset inflicts 2D6 Hull Point damage to the ship

30-38 Down-time: It's a long time Select a crew member of choice and add +1 XP. The crew has time to do maintenance tasks and can Repair 1 damaged item with no roll required.

Distress call: "This is Rogue Trader Jeremiah Blitz". If you come to their aid, roll 1D6.

- 1: The ship's drive must have detonated moments after you received the signal. Your ship is struck by a wave of debris as you approach, suffering 1D6+1 Hull Point damage.
- · 2: You only find drifting wreckage.
- 3-4: You can rescue a crew member. Treat this as the Escape Pod event.
- 5-6: You arrive in time to help save the ship from a drive malfunction. Select a crew member and roll 1D6+Savvy. A 7+ is required to succeed, but you may make three attempts. If you succeed, the jubilant crew give you a bunch of stuff. Roll three times on the Loot table. If you fail, the drive detonates, and your ship is damaged, select a crew member and roll 1D6+Savvy three times, requiring a 4+ to succeed each time. Each failed roll inflicts 1D6 Hull Point damage to the ship.

Patrol ship: An imperial strike force patrol vessel hails you informing you to prepare for boarding and to be ready for inspection. Roll 1D6, on a 1 - 3 you you're not going to take this lying down and engage with the imperial strike force. Set up a battle in a cramped territory using the Imperial Strike Force Encounter table. Enemy numbers are determined by rolling 3D6, picking the highest die (with campaign crew size 5, roll 2D6 and pick highest; with 550 objective. If you drive them off, they flee back to their ship. If you lose, you lose all scrips and everything in your Stash, though you can keep the ship. If you win gain a Rival for the force which you defeated. If you roll 4-5 Roll 1D6 - 3, each die that scores above a 0, results in that number of items being confiscated as contraband. You can give them any items carried or in your Stash. Due to the military presence, the next world you visit cannot be Invaded.

BUNAL II I STOR

Cosmic phenomenon: A crew member sees a strange manifestation in space. When they ask around, nobody else saw anything, and the ship's computers confirm nothing was there. The crew member adds +1 Luck (if they are 51-53 able). This event can only ever happen once in a campaign. Treat as nothing happening if it happens again. If you have a Sanctioned Psyker in the crew, they predict it's a good omen. Add +1 story point. If you have Rogue Psyker in your crew deduct -1 story point.

Escape pod: You find an escape pod drifting through space. If you opt to rescue them, roll 1D6. 1: They're a wanted Hive Scum war lord. If you let them go when you arrive on the next world, they might do you a favor later. The next time you make a new Rival, roll 4+ on 1D6 to immediately remove the Rivals from the campaign. If you the time them in, claim 1D6 scrips, but get a Rival from their old gang. 2-3: They reward you with 1D3 scrips and a roll on the Loot Table when you arrive on the nearest world. 4: They have nothing to pay you with but do have some interesting information. Add 1 Quest Rumor and 1 story point. 5: They are willing to join your crew. Roll up a new character, but they come with no equipment at all. If you don't want to hire them, they just leave at the next world. 6: As entry 5, but the character begins play with 10 XP yet unspent.

51-66 Accident: Routine maintenance task. They must rest up for one campaign turn to recover from the Injury, and one item they carry is damaged.

75 Travel-time: Local conditions force you to jump to the very edge of the system and approach under standard drives. Any Injured crew may rest for one campaign turn.

Warp Event: The crew are forced to travel through the warp to avoid a large fleet Tyrranids. On a roll of 3-6 the ship 76-85 becomes attacked by some kind of warp entity. The ship suffers 6 hull points of damage (ignoring any modifiers that may reduce this) and you must roll on the injury table for each crew member.

86-91 Time to reflect: How is the story unfolding? What did it all mean? Add +1 story point.

Engaging the Savant: There's time to sit, have a read, and maybe even indulge in a bit of education. Roll 1D6. On 92-95 a 1-2, a random crew member earns +3 XP. On a 3-4, a random crew member earns +2 XP, and a second random crew member earns +1 XP. On a 5-6, three random crew each earn +1 XP.

Locked in the library: Pouring over old records and fragments of data, the captain has unearthed some intriguing information about the sector of space you are heading into. You can roll up the planetary into (problems, conveniences, licensing requirements) for three to fuel limitations, you must visit one of the three generated. All three generated worlds remain in the campaign and can be visited later.

Bounty Hunter: When setting up, roll 1D6. If the score is 1-3, that many bonus scrips will be paid out if you Hold the Field after the battle.

Revenge: When rolling to see if a defeated gang becomes a Rival, you must roll 2D6, with a 1 on either die indicating you've acquired them as Rivals. If both dice score a 1, they hate you. They become Rivals AND will increase the numbers encountered by +1 in all battles.

Battle Events add a random component to the tabletop battle beyond the simple to Hit rolls and damage checks. At the end of Round 2 of the battle, roll once on this table and apply the result to the gaming table. Roll a second random event at the end of Round 4. No additional events are rolled. In some cases, the two events can be incompatible or non-sensible when both applied. If so, discard the second event with no effect.

BATTLE EVENTS

ROLL	EFFECT
1-5	Renewed efforts: The enemy is making a concerted effort to push you back. For the rest of the battle, afte enemy figures have acted, select a random figure that may immediately take a second Move and seco Combat Action.
6-9	Enemy reinforcements: An additional 2 enemy figures arrive at the center of the opposing battlefield edg One is armed as a Specialist (if applicable to the enemy type).
10-13	Change of plans: The enemy switches to the Cautious AI type for the rest of the battle. If they were alread Cautious, they instead switch to Tactical AI. Enemies with no ranged attacks are unaffected by this even
14-16	Lost heart: The enemy has had enough of this fight. At the end of the next round, they will leave the field
17-20	Seized the moment: Select a crew member who may move and act in both the Quick and Slow Action phases next round.
21-26	Critters!: Place 1D3 Hormagants in the center of the table and move each of them 1D6" in a random direction. At the beginning of the Enemy Actions phase, they will move towards the nearest figure and attack, regardless of which side the figure is on. If you are already fighting Hormagants, this is bad news, they are of course part of the enemy brood.
27-30	Ammo fault: Select a random figure in your crew. If they fired a weapon last round, it cannot be used for rest of the battle. If they did not, select a random carried weapon, which can be fired only once this bat
31-34	Visibility change: If visibility is currently reduced, increase the vision range by +1D6". If visibility is currentl unlimited, reduce it to 1D6+6".
35-38	Tougher than expected: Select a random enemy figure. They receive +1 Toughness (to a maximum of 6) or remove all current stun markers on that figure.
39-42	Snapshot: Select a figure in your crew. They may fire a weapon immediately. If the weapon is a Pistol, it Hits automatically, otherwise roll to Hit normally.
43-46	Cunning plan: In the next round, do not roll for Initiative. Each of your crew acts in the Quick or Slow Action phase as you prefer.
47 - 50	Possible reinforcements: Place 3 markers evenly spaced along the opposing battlefield edge. At the start of the Enemy Actions phase next round, select a random marker, and roll 1D6. On a 5-6, a new basic enemy figure is placed on the marker, otherwise it is removed. Roll for one marker per round until they are all gone. If a crew member moves within 3" of a marker, it is removed instantly.

ROLL	EFFECT
51 - 54	Clock is running out: At the end of the next round and each round, thereafter, roll 1D6. On a 6, the game ends immediately, and you are unable to complete any objectives. You will not count as Holding the Field unless you clear the table of enemies before this happens.
55 - 60	Environmental hazard: Select a random terrain feature. Any figure currently in, on, or within 1" of the feature must roll 1D6+Savvy and achieve a 5+ (enemies roll 1D6 and must roll a 4+) or take a Damage +1 Hit, ignoring any Armor Saving Throws. The feature is safe afterwards.
61 - 65	A desperate plan: A random figure in your crew cannot act next round, but instead select another figure of choice that may act in both the Quick and Slow Actions phases.
66 - 70	A moment of hesitation: Next round, select a single figure that acts in the Quick Actions phase (if any Xen are in the squad, you must select a Xenos). All other figures act in the Slow Actions phase.
71 - 73	Fumbled grenade: A random enemy fumbles a grenade. The figure in question runs 6" in a random direction and is then Stunned. Every figure, crew, and enemy within 4" of the initial position will immediately run 4" directly away. The grenade then goes off harmlessly. If the enemy is one that would not use grenades, nothing happens.
74 - 77	Back up: If you have spare crew not taking part in the battle, you may have one crew member arrive. Place them on the center of your own battlefield edge.
78 - 80	Enemy VIP: A Unique Individual immediately joins the enemy force. Place them on the center of their battlefield edge.
81 - 85	Fog cloud: A dense cloud of fog envelops the center of the table for the rest of the battle. It extends 6" in every direction and blocks all visibility past 2".
86 - 89	Lost!: A random crew member loses their way and misses the rest of the battle. Remove the figure from the battlefield. They rejoin you safely afterwards, looking a bit sheepish. Ignore this event if you are currently outnumbered.
90 - 93	I found something!: Randomly select a crew member, then place a marker 1D6" from them in a random direction. The enemy will ignore it. If any crew member moves into contact and spends a non-Combat Action, roll for a Loot item, and claim it for use immediately.
94 - 97	Looks valuable: Randomly select a crew member, then place a marker 1D6" from them in a random direction. The enemy will ignore it. If any crew member moves into contact and spends a free action, obt 1D3 scrips.
98 - 100	You want me to check that out?: Select a random crew member. They may opt to go check out somethin they insist they saw. If they do, they are removed from the battle. After the battle ends, they may roll once the Loot table. If you opt not to go, you cannot send a different character, and the chance is lost.

CAMPAIGN EVENT Roll Event You've met a friendly Medicae who doesn't ask too many questions. Select up to two crew members in 1-3 Sick Bay and reduce their Recovery time by one campaign turn each. If they recover, they can act normally next campaign turn. The life support system on the ship needs upgrading badly. Upgrading the life support system will cost 1D6 4-8 scrips. The ship cannot be flown until this is paid. If your crew has an Jokaero, modify the roll by -1. A chance meeting turns into a new ally. Roll up a new character and add them to the crew OR add +1 9-12 story point. You may decide after rolling up the new character. 13-16 You've made friends among the locals. +1 story point. 17-20 You managed to mouth off to the wrong people. Add a Rival. An old nemesis has tracked you down. Select a prior Rival or roll up a new one. They will follow you from 21-23 planet to planet until resolved. Receive +1 when rolling for the number of enemies in a battle. 24-26 A shady character offers you a deal. Give him any one item of equipment, then roll on the Trade Table. 27-30 You sell off some cargo you acquired on the last planet. Earn 1D6 scrips. 31-35 One of the crew overheard something interesting. Add 1 Rumor. You've managed to settle some old "business". If you have any, you may remove one Rival of your choice. 36-38 If you have no Rivals, your captain earns +1 XP instead. An admirer wants to come along. Gain a new crew member, if desired. If your crew has any Kin members, 39-41 the new member is also Kin. A Xenos merchant offers you some strange device. If you want to buy it, pay 4 scrips, and then roll on the 42-44 Xenos Table. Equipment malfunction. If there are any items in your Stash, a random item is damaged and must be 45-48 Repaired. You've earned a bit of a bad reputation. If you know any Patrons on the current world, randomly select 49-51 one that will no longer work with you. If you have no Patrons, shrug, and move on.

CHARACTER EVENT

F	ROLL	EVENT
	1-3	All this endless violence is depressing you. The character refuses to participate in any battle during the next campaign turn (except for an invasion battle). Get +1 story point, as they get a new perspective on life. Drukhari are unaffected by this.
6	4-6	You have some business to attend to elsewhere. The character is unavailable for the next two campaign turns. They require no Upkeep during this time and cannot be the target of any events. When they return, award them 1D6 XP, and roll once on the Loot Table. If the character is a Kroot, they return with a new ability (choose an enemy ability from Xenos cat 1 or 2).
	7-10	You make some local friends. The character earns +1 XP.
1	1-12	You are starting to wonder if it is time to move on. If the character is currently in Sick Bay, roll 1D6. If the roll is equal or below the number of campaign turns of recovery left, they will decide to leave the crew.
1	3-15	You get a letter from home. The character earns +1 XP. Roll 1D6. On a 5-6 you immediately receive a Quest.
1	6-19	You argue with the rest of the crew. During the next campaign turn, the crew member refuses to do any tasks but will participate in battle normally.
2	20-23	You get in a scrap with another crew member. Randomly select another crew member and roll 1D6+Combat Skill for each. The lower score must spend one campaign turn in Sick Bay. On a draw, both go to Sick Bay. If a Kin is in the crew, you must fight them.
2	24-26	The local food is not sitting well with you. If in Sick Bay, reduce your recovery time by one campaign turn. If not, earn +1 XP.
2	27-29	You are not sure you are really the same person any longer. Roll on the Motivation Table and change to that motivation. You do not receive any items or resources, but if the new motivation would have any ability score bonuses, earn +1 XP for each +1 ability score you would have received normally. If you roll the current motivation, the character becomes particularly self-assured. Earn +1 story point.
3	30-33	It is time for a make-over! The character changes their clothes, hairstyle, or something else. This is only cosmetic. If you can, reflect this on the miniature.
3	34-38	Overhear something useful. Earn 1 Quest Rumor.
3	39-41	Earn a little on the side. Receive +2 Scripts.
4	12-45	Have a heart-to-heart talk with a crew member. Select a random crew member. Both eam +1 XP.

*	56-59	You've had time to reflect on your adventures. Earn +1D3 XP.
1	60-62	You've made a real personal breakthrough. Select one ability score that has not been increased from its starting value when the character entered the campaign. It increases by +1 immediately.
1	63-66	You get hurt while working on the ship. Spend one campaign turn in Sick Bay, and the ship takes 1 Hull Point damage.

A Distant	69-71	A personal enemy has tracked you down. Add a Rival. If this character leaves your crew, the Rival also leaves.
四七上	72-75	Someone has sent you a gift. Roll once on the Loot Table.

-	85-87	You've put in a lot of hard work around here. Either repair 2 Hull Point damage or Repair one damaged item in the inventory. Jokaero and Mechnicus may do both.
*	88-91	They don't make them like they used to. A random item carried by the character is damaged and must be Repaired before it can be used again. Jokaero are not affected by this event.
/	92-94	Where did it go? A random item carried by the character has been lost. When rolling for a Character Event next campaign turn, roll 1D6+Savvy as well. On a 5+, the item turns up again, otherwise it is lost for good.
ANE A	95-97	A deep feeling of melancholy and despair is afflicting you. The character will earn no XP next campaign turn. Beastmen are not affected by this event.
- VENING	98-100	You've had a lot of time to burn. Next campaign turn, the character may perform an additional action, even if they are in Sick Bay.
